MAN BEATEN BY STRIKERS NEAR U.R.R. CAR BARNS

Arrival of 100 More Armed Strikebreakers From N.Y. Is Signal for New Violence

INDICTMENTS WILL BE ASKED OF GRAND JURY

President Lilienthal Says the Company Will Sell to City, But at "Proper Valuation"

585 MARKET ST.
TRIBUNE BUREAU
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 21.—The arrival of 100 professional strikebreakers from New York City and their installation at the Twenty-fourth and Utah streets can be said was the signal for more rioting this morning and one of the newcomers who boldly walked forth in search of tobacco for himself and his associates was given a beating which may cause his death.

George Schaefer of New York City was the victim of the attack. Soon after he and the others had been quartered in the barn, Schaefer ventured forth to buy tobacco. He had gone only a block and a half when he police arrived he had been manhandled so roughly that both eyes were closed, his scalp laid open in a dozen places and his skull was probably fractured. At the Mission Emergency Hospital he told of his experience and declared that another trainload of 250 strike-breakers, recruited in New York and Chicago, was following closely and would arrive to-day.

The police, who were in force at Twenty-fourth and Bryant streets, only a block away from the scene of the trouble, arrested Robert Ryan, a conductor, whom they charged with disturbing the peace.

TO ASK INDICTMENT OF STRIKEBREAKERS

Indictment of armed strike-breakers brought here by the United Railroads will be asked of the county grand jury tomorrow night. District Attorney Flickert announced today. They will be charged with carrying concealed weapons, which, under a new State law, is a felony.

Simultaneously J. A. O'Connell announced that trial bills might also be asked against "higher-ups" responsible for arming the strike-breakers. O'Connell asserted that many of the strike-breakers are working on car platforms with revolvers in their pockets.

That union teamsters will refuse to haul supplies to United Railroads barns, where strike-breakers are housed, was indicated this afternoon when six members of that union struck rather than take stoves to points where strike-breakers are housed.

The announcement by President Jesse W. Lilienthal that although he was ready to negotiate for the disposal of the United Railroads to the city, he would consent to no sale that would not safeguard the interests of the men who had stood loyal to the company, furnished considerable interest today, following steps taken yesterday by the board of supervisors looking toward the opening of negotiations. Not only did Lilienthal give public utterance to his determination in this regard, but in order to reassure the company's employees he caused a written notice to be posted in every car barn in the city.

READY TO SELL ROAD AT PROPER VALUATION

President Lilienthal has all along been willing to sell the road, if a proper valuation could be obtained and a reasonable price determined upon, he said. This morning, however, he was inclined to think first of the men who had remained in the company's employ and their predicament should San Francisco take over the lines and operate them under a union wage scale, as is the practice of the Municipal Railway. He therefore caused to be posted the following:

"To the Employees of the United Railroads: The Board of Supervisors having adopted a resolution directing its public utilities committee to confer with me looking to the possible acquisition of the United Railroads by the city, I wish you to understand that I will not entertain any overtures except upon the indispensable condition that the men who have remained loyal to the service shall, in any event personally retain their present positions."

"Signed, JESSE W. LILIENTHAL."

The arrest of a half-dozen men on charges of disturbing the peace in connection with a car barn demonstration in the Mission, the firing of a shot at a motorman in the vicinity of Golden Gate Park in the darkness of the early morning hours and the draining of police headquarters for further reserves for the troublesome districts were other important happenings in the great strike.

County Infirmary Budget Items Cut by Supervisors

Commission Engages in First Struggle With Board to Improve Old System

Fighting against the downfall of the system which has been in force at the county infirmary for years, the Board of Supervisors, headed by John F. Mullins and C. W. Heyer, attempted to cut item after item from the budget submitted to them today by the Alameda County Institutions Commission.

The real struggle began when an item for $2400 in the administration section of the budget was brought up for discussion and was attacked by Chairman D. J. Murphy. The item in question was for the salaries of a competent business manager and a stenographer.

"Why should this be asked for," questioned Murphy, "when you have a storekeeper and bookkeeper to handle the business and records of the institution?"

"Because they are bookkeeper and storekeeper and as such are not qualified to handle the business affairs of the institution in an efficient and business-like way," replied Harrison S. Robinson, chairman of the commission.

"You have a superintendent," suggested Murphy.

SYSTEM IS STYLED WASTE OF TIME

"Yes, he is also the hospital physician and his time is fully taken in handling the technical end of things without leaving him any to devote to the proper conducting of financial and other matters. I can think of no greater waste of effort than to ask a doctor or nurse to peck away at a typewriter when a competent operator can be had for a comparatively small salary."

"The item was passed—for a time."

"Why should you want a training school instructor when you have a competent head nurse?" asked Mullins.

PLAN TO AID CARE OF OLD PATIENTS

"Well, they will not be available, for we are planning to convert them into wards for the old men," Mullins maintained.

"The government pays the expense," suggested Dr. Wills.

"I know they do, but they cannot have them."

The question is as to whether the Board of Supervisors wanted a modern, up-to-date hospital, run on a business basis—one as good as private hospitals.

"We certainly do, even better," Mullins maintained.

"Well, then, we must have your cooperation and help," Robinson replied. "We were brought in here to do the work of reorganizing this institution and, with your help, we are going to do it. We haven't gotten very far as yet, but we have started out on a clean-up and the old institutions must be abandoned and new methods adopted."

"After the commission representatives have explained the details of the budget to the supervisors that body, after an individual and called meeting regarding these details, especially Heyer especially expressed bitterness over certain items, particularly the one covering the proposed manager."

"Well, we'll have to build a dormitory for the help pretty soon," he said.

Discussing the budget generally when certain items did not come readily to hand, Heyer said: "I think we'll take this thing down as they saw fit: just took a plot-luck shot at it."

Draft Wealth Without Mercy Says Senator

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS

LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—Conscription of wealth to pay for the war was urged in the Senate today by Senator La Follette of Wisconsin, in presenting the minority plan of the finance committee for higher rates in the war tax bill on war profits and incomes. He suggested increasing the $2,000,000,000 bill to more than $2,500,000,000 by such increases with elimination of consumption taxes. He also urged that less bonds and more taxes be authorized. The Wisconsin Senator declared governments were demanding war while their peoples were asking for peace and contended that 85 per cent of the men drafted are protesting. Large bond issues desired by wealthy interests, he contended, inflate prices and increase the cost of living, which he asserted were already imposed a 50 to 100 per cent war burden upon the masses.

The Liberty Loan, he said, was made possible by an "iron hand with a kid glove" and persistent advertising methods.

The pending bill, La Follette stated, provides by taxes but 17 per cent of this year's war expenses, while Great Britain imposes 26 per cent.

WEALTH ASKS SMALL TAXES AND BIG BONDS

Next year's war expenses, he predicted, may reach $20,000,000,000 or $40,000,000,000, and he urged that war profits and incomes of wealthy persons by higher sur-taxes, be made to bear the burden of the war.

Urging a larger proportion of taxes, the Wisconsin Senator said:

"It is a part of the history of all great wars that wealth has demanded the minimum of taxation and the maximum of loans, while the poor classes have desired the maximum of taxation and the minimum of loans.

This difference is accentuated now since war profits and excessive incomes are being forced by taxation to contribute some portion of the revenues which war makes it necessary to raise."

"Wealth has never yet sacrificed itself on the altar of patriotism in any war. On the contrary it has shown itself eager to take advantage of the misfortunes which war always brings to the masses of the people. That has been true of every war we have had and it is certainly true of the present war."

"It may be argued that the poor equally with the rich will have the opportunity to purchase war bonds, to obtain comfort to have the opportunity to purchase bonds if you have little or no money to invest in bonds. The late 'Liberty Loan' is a good example of bonds sold to the poor or those of limited means. All the machinery of the government was used."

DAVIE'S OWN

FIRE DIMMED BY ECONOMY

Kaufman Budget Fails to Provide Cost of Logs for Great Hearth in Mayor's Chambers

Lights May Also Lose Luster; Worst of All, Scented Soap, But No Water May Be Order

With the adoption of the "George Kaufman economy budget," championed by Mayor Davie, the chief executive of the municipality has put out the fire in his own hearth. Should he remain during the coming winter months within the luxurious appointments of the mayoralty chambers and his $5 chair, he will have to sit upon a steam radiator to drive away the chill of an early morning automobile airing. The handsome fireplace, set beneath historic panels to which he so strenuously objected on taking up his berth, may no longer glow at 15 a.m.

No longer may the mayor shift from his easy chair to back up against the crackling logs to gaze out over the busy streets and ruminant over valiant conquests of women's protective bureaus, woodways for the suffering, "low tax rate," ousted city employees of long years' service, over-worked employees who remain, and the first-budget-with-which-he-had - anything-to-do.

The situation presenting itself, like a bugaboo to the mayoralty committee, is that the city hall fund has been reduced this year, "for the sake of economy," that the $15 a month required to keep the mayor's hearth glowing cannot be spared.

Perhaps he will be gotten reconciled. Perhaps he will hustle his own combustibles with his personal automobile.

The Austrian line is beginning to wear and give way at various points. Enemy defenses between Gorizia and Seidola, the strongly fortified Starollovka position, have been captured by the Italians.

General Cadorna's great offensive started, peculiarly enough, at the very moment when Austrian airmen were carrying out a vigorous campaign for peace. They were dropping thousands of printed messages urging Italian "comrades" not to fight.

AMERICANS UNDER SHAM ATTACKS

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE

AMERICAN TRAINING CAMP IN FRANCE, Aug. 21.—Training in some of the American battalions has progressed to such a point that sham attacks on the trench systems are being carried out with a degree akin to actual warfare. Thus far artillery has been only theoretical, but before long the marines will have the experience of watching the effect of real artillery upon the trenches.

The marines are having some especially lively engagements this week with their French instructors. French chasseurs, acting as the enemy, have been making attacks upon the marine trench system, with Dewey, Farragut, Porter and Sampson trenches as the battle objectives. The French also have been attempting to block and hold communication trenches known as Ober, Marne, Meuse, Aisne and Potomac. It will be seen that the marines' trench nomenclature is based upon the naval heroes and rivers of the United States.

MARINES RESIST.

The marines have been making stout resistance and wherever the "ene" penetrated their lines they organized a counter-attack which quickly ejected the intruders. The real object of these preliminary attacks is to get the officers and men acquainted with what are known as the front as operation orders. It is the first step toward carrying the rudiments of highly organized art of modern warfare where every step and every detail is worked out in advance on a pre-arranged plan and must be strictly adhered to.

One great difference from real warfare, however, is the fact that in battles with the marines the "enemy" has accommodatedly allowed a copy of his operation orders to fall into the hands of the defending garrison. This will be changed later and the American garrison will be called upon to resist surprise attacks in force.

ROOKIES DISPOSE.

Another valuable feature in sham battle exercises is in teaching Americans the great importance of what is known as liaison work—the maintenance of communication with supporting artillery, with flanking forces, with airplanes and with information.

Attacks are accompanied by a lively rocket display, as S. O. S. signals are sent up for defending the curtain of fire from the artillery and calling reserves from companies in support of the trenches. The rockets are also used in the guise of artillery fire by shortening and lengthening them. The evacuation of wounded under the shell fire is another feature of sham battles which is receiving attention.

TWO SEEKING TO DIVORCE TWO

Suit for divorce was filed on secret complaint in the superior court today by Blanche Trotman, 375 Shafter avenue, against Edwin Trotman, a switchman employed by the Bell Telephone in San Francisco. The allegation is cruelty, which is declared to be of a mental kind, according to the complaint.

A similar suit for divorce on the secret file has also been filed by J. G. Foster Moale, a clerk, against his wife, Nancy Moale. The real reasons behind the matter are being kept a secret. Mrs. Moale admitted that her husband had not been at the family home, 5442 Miles avenue, during the past few days.

SUITS FOR $50,000

Mrs. Mary Sousa, whose husband, Manuel, was killed at Long Wharf, Oakland, a year ago, leaving her with five little children to support, filed suit in the federal courts today against the Western Fuel Company for $50,000 damages. The action came as the result of a decision by the State Supreme Court that at the accident happened on board a ship that the State authorities had no power to give redress.

Originally the Industrial Accident Commission awarded Mrs. Sousa $3600 damages. The Supreme Court reversed this decision as it was shown that Sousa had been killed by a siting load of coal falling on his head while he was on a ship at the pier. Today's action in the Federal court followed.

FORCED TO MARRY

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 21.—Pretty Edna St. Clair, 16, an orphan, stung Charles P. St. Clair, 64, for divorce, telling him here today she had never loved the aged man and that the marriage was forced upon her by a scheming aunt, who believed St. Clair wealthy.

St. Clair proved both poor and cruel, according to the complaint filed by the attorneys for the girl.

SHOOT DESERTERS

CHICAGO, Aug. 21.—Hilton G. Clabaugh, chief of the Chicago office of the department of justice, said today that the slacker who failed to appear at the court hearing after being called may, under the law, be shot as deserters.

"They will be subject to court martial and the extreme penalty is death by shooting," he said.

Just Try This When Hairy Growths Appear

(Moles of Today) A smooth hairless skin always follows the use of paste made by mixing some sugar with plain powdered delatone. This paste is applied to the hairy surface 2 or 3 minutes, then rubbed off and the skin washed, when every trace of hair will have vanished. No pain or discomfort attends the use of the delatone paste, but caution should be exercised to be sure that you get real delatone.—Advertisement.

THREE BILLIONS YEARLY COST OF ALLY MUNITIONS

LONDON, Aug. 21.—Colonel Winston Churchill, minister of munitions, has begun the reorganization of the British munitions department. In a statement he said the department now is employing 2,900,000 persons and the headquarters staff 13,500, and that it is controlling an expenditure of between $800,000,000 and £700,000,000 a year. Colonel Churchill says the work the department has done has made the British armies the best equipped and most thoroughly armed in Europe. He continues:

"We are longer than tapping stored-up resources of the national energy or mobilizing. Already in many directions the frontiers are in sight and it is necessary therefore not simply to expand, but to go back over the ground already covered, and by thrifty and harmonious methods gear a further reinforcement of war power."

MORE VIOLENCE IN CAR STRIKE

optimism displayed by the strikers, due largely to the action of the public utilities committee of the board of supervisors yesterday in setting on foot a plan for the possible purchase of the United Railroads system.

"In addition, I wish to say that we are improving conditions more rapidly than I first anticipated," said Lillian that. "We had more cars yesterday than at any time since the strike, and anyone can see how greatly the service has improved. In addition, what may be done in the line of negotiations with the supervisors, we will go right ahead and run our cars and restore service."

Out at the union headquarters in the Labor Temple, B. F. However and the other leaders of the strike were jubilant. The move made by the supervisors is considered most advantageous from the standpoint of the strikers. They believe that a way can be found for the city to acquire the system owned by the United Railroads and to run it on the basis now in vogue on the Municipal Railways, which plan would receive $2.50 a day for eight hours continuous employment.

Godfrey Anderson, motorman on the Haight and Ingleside line, was singled out for attack in the darkness of the early morning hours. Four men, loitering at the corner of Tenth avenue and Lincoln way, fired a shot at him as he sped by. The bullets zipped about a foot from his head and his assailants ran into Golden Gate Park and escaped.

Out on Valencia street there was another demonstration of less serious nature resulting in the arrest of the men on charges of disturbing the peace. Those taken into custody were James Cosgrave, a clerk; Michael O'Connor, James Price and Eugene O'Connor, conductors; Lester Price, a teamster, and George McCarty, an apprentice.

The six men arrested were the only ones captured by the police out of a crowd estimated at more than twenty which engaged in rioting at Twenty-sixth and Valencia streets. According to the police, a number of strikers lay in wait for some strikebreakers and a freebooter fight followed. By the time the officers arrived many of those engaged in the disturbance had made their escape.

The State Railroad Commission announced this morning that within the next month it would be prepared to furnish a valuation of the properties of the United Railroads which might be used, if desired, in arriving at a purchase price should the city wish to buy the system. Some time ago the company presented to the commission a tentative plan of reorganization. The commission proceeded to make a valuation of the corporation's properties, and this is 90 per cent.

With abounding enthusiasm we decapitated the youth of the land to whom it need be on a foreign soil," said Senator Johnson. "I ask that the same enthusiasm be manifested in our spirit wealth to stand behind the youths who have gone to the trenches. Our lads have gone, to use a hackneyed phrase, to preserve 'world democracy.' Those who coin profits from the blood of war and make swollen profits ought to pay the cost. The amount proposed by this bill is but a mite on such profits."

Senator Johnson said he was "disgusted by the probable war costs estimated at $20,000,000,000 the first year" and without a single shot fired.

The future liability hails imagination, he continued. "I believe the liability of this nation at the close of the war will be greater than that of any other belligerent. All this time people are willing to do, but they ask that the burden be placed not alone upon them, but that some of it come from those profiting by the war."

England, he said, levies a war profits tax of 80 per cent, while Congress had only seen fit to take 20 per cent. The estimated war profits, he added, amount to $3,000,000,000, but the bill levies only $562,000,000.

SCORES METHODS.

Senator Johnson denounced the publicity methods used by the government. The Japanese mission, he said, arrived on the Pacific coast last week and for weeks California newspapers have been publishing their plans with other information regarding the members of the party. In Washington, however, he said, newspapers are only permitted to publish news regarding the mission under the date-line of an unnamed Pacific port.

"By this manner," he said, "some gentlemen of the mission's rival would be withheld from agents in Germany," adding that he mentioned this example because it was typical of the publicity methods now being employed by the government.

"I ask for publicity and truth in this war and nothing else in return for our sacrifice," Senator Johnson added.

Senator Johnson also advocated elimination of every consumption tax and an increase of surtaxes on incomes of more than $1,000,000. He pointed out that treasury statistics show 120 persons pay taxes on incomes of from $1,000,000 to $10,000,000 and more, while the bill proposes a maximum surtax of 50 per cent on all incomes over $500,000.

POISON TOBACCO

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 21.—A consignment of tobacco gathered by some unknown agency in Los Angeles and sent to Allentown, Pa., to the soldiers' encampment there, has been found to be saturated with poison. Federal secret service men are reported comuing the city in an effort to uncover the plot back of the poison tobacco.

An ambulance unit of Pasadena men is at Allentown.

The tobacco was sent only a short time ago under the guise of a generous gift to the men in training.

set in motion to sell these bonds to the small investor."

Senator La Follette asserted the bonds "were a poor investment to the man of small means in comparison with the advantages which the owners of large incomes could secure from investing millions of their taxable incomes in these non-taxable bonds," and continued:

BILL WOULD MORTGAGE MASSSES TO MONEYLENDERS

"We are counseled by the highest economic authority, we are admonished by all history; we are commanded by every consideration of justice to the American boys who are marked for slaughter, to the American homes already in the shadow of death, to declare here and now by our votes on this record that the wealth of this country will be taken as mercilessly through the power of taxation as men are taken by force of the draft."

After keeping down taxes and increasing bonds, Senator La Follette said the masses are being "mortgaged to the money lenders."

Loans to the allies, the Senator said, may and may not be repaid, certainly not for many years after the war. Russia, he said, is "in the throes of revolution and 'Italy, if reports are correct, is on the eve of one."

Possibility of bread lines in winter because of the high cost of living, he pictured thus in conclusion: "Always remember that the high prices imposed upon us have taxed the common people of this country to the support of this war to such a degree that the wealthier classes will be taxed if every dollar of income of the members of that class were taken by the taxation. When bread lines shall be a familiar sight in every city of this land, as they are bound to be if the present prices of the simple necessities of life are maintained during the coming winter, when cold and hunger are daily visitors in many thousands of homes which have known only comfort heretofore, a condition certain to exist during the coming winter months unless relief from foreign sources can be found, it will be small satisfaction, I think, to the members of this Congress to realize that they have contributed to the want and suffering of the mass of people by refusing to place even an approximately fair portion of the financial burden of this war upon the rich."

CONSCRIPT WEALTH, JOHNSON DEMANDS

ADVOCATES LEVIES.

In advocating greater federal levies on war profits and millionaires' incomes, Senator Johnson said American young men had been drafted and that millionaires "collected from the blood of the nation also should be drafted." He recommended that the government take 80 per cent of war profits—as Great Britain does—and half of millionaires' incomes.

Senator Hollis, supporting the La Follette-Gore-Thomas minority report of the finance committee for higher rates on incomes and profits, also advocated taking 80 to 90 per cent of war profits, but expressed the opinion that the Senate could not now be induced to levy over 50 per cent. The present bill is designed to assess about 26 per cent.

With abounding enthusiasm we decapitated the youth of the land to whom it need be on a foreign soil," said Senator Johnson. "I ask that the same enthusiasm be manifested in our spirit wealth to stand behind the youths who have gone to the trenches. ## DAUGHTER OF PROF. ELWOOD MEAD WED

Berkeley, Aug. 21.—Miss Lucy Mead, daughter of Professor Elwood Mead of the University of California and director of the Berkeley Field Station, was married as a bride today at a high noon ceremony by Lieutenant Mortl, U. S. A. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. W. Palmer of Plymouth church, Oakland. After an hour-long service the couple will be seated at Post Street, where the bridegroom is stationed.

Miss Mead is a graduate of the Presbyterian Young Ladies' College of Melbourne, Australia, where her father was stationed for eight years before coming to California. She was born in the college social set. The bridegroom is the son of Dean Marion of the engineering department of Iowa State College, and is rated as one of the brilliant younger army officers.

They will be subject to court martial and the extreme penalty is death by shooting," he said.

Just Try This When Hairy Growths Appear

(Moles of Today) A smooth hairless skin always follows the use of paste made by mixing some sugar with plain powdered delatone. This paste is applied to the hairy surface 2 or 3 minutes, then rubbed off and the skin washed, when every trace of hair will have vanished. No pain or discomfort attends the use of the delatone paste, but caution should be exercised to be sure that you get real delatone.—Advertisement.

POISON TOBACCO

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 21.—A consignment of tobacco gathered by some unknown agency in Los Angeles and sent to Allentown, Pa., to the soldiers' encampment there, has been found to be saturated with poison. Federal secret service men are reported comuing the city in an effort to uncover the plot back of the poison tobacco.

An ambulance unit of Pasadena men is at Allentown.

The tobacco was sent only a short time ago under the guise of a generous gift to the men in training.

'UNWRITTEN LAW' IS RECOGNIZED IN LONDON CASE

LONDON, Aug. 21.—The "unwritten law," whereby a man may kill his wife's lover, was recognized by an English jury almost for the first time within the recollection of the English public.

"Justifiable homicide in self-defense" was the verdict rendered by a London coroner's jury in the case of Lieutenant Douglas Malcolm, who shot and killed a foreigner styling himself "Count Deb

LEADERSHIP WIRE TO TRIBUNE
SPOKANE, Aug. 21.—Disposition of the twenty-seven I. W. W. members who were arrested here Sunday, the day before the general strike was to begin, will be discussed at a conference today which Major Clement Wilson, who made the arrests, expects to hold with Assistant Attorney General Richardson of the State of Washington. It had been said that James Rowan, district secretary of the I. W. W., who signed the strike call, probably would be court-martialed, as some of the men he demanded to be released from jail are alleged to be alien enemies and men who did not register for the army. Rowan and other members of the I. W. W. are being held in the county jail.

No reports have been received of men striking in the harvest fields and construction camps in response to the strike call of yesterday. At St. John, Wash., I. W. W. established a camp and refused to accept new jobs. Employment agents said today they are sending fewer men to the harvest fields, and that no acute shortage in the fields and orchards has been reported.

STRIKE IS PREVENTED.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—A nation-wide strike in steel shipyards working on gigantic government contracts will be prevented by wage increases paid by the government. In his first clash with organized labor on war work, Uncle Sam will recognize the claim that increased cost of living warrants a higher wage scale.

The decision totals from the difficulties into which the launching of ship construction enmeshed the shipping board. Shipyard owners whose contracts have been taken over by the government refused to make new wage agreements with the International Metal Trades Union until the shipping board approves the increased wage scales.

The final decision is to be left to a special commission of three members, one appointed by President Wilson, one by President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor and the third member to be appointed by the shipping board.

SEATTLE, Aug. 21.—Civil and Spanish-American War Veterans are on record here today demanding the suppression of "traitorous organizations such as the I. W. W." and are proceeding with the organization of a "direct action committee."

Letters were addressed local officials demanding the suppression of street gatherings where war was denounced and President Wilson condemned.

MISSOURI, Mont., Aug. 21.—A meeting of I. W. W.'s here today endorsed the strike call sent out from Spokane by James Rowan, district secretary, and called upon all agriculture and construction workers to go out "in sympathy with the lumber workers," who have been on strike for two months. The resolutions adopted by the I. W. W. says it does not refer to members working for the United States Government, forest fires or in other capacity.

EAST BAY MEN GET SERVICE ORDERS

Many Oakland and Berkeley men are affected by the active service orders issued yesterday at the Presidio by Major General Hunter Liggett, commanding the Western Department. In addition to the names added to those selected to attend the second Reserve Officers' Training corps which begins work next Monday, seventeen students in the Berkeley school of military aeronautics have been ordered to San Diego.

The list includes Henry G. Andrews, Alfred B. Booth, St. John L. Eston, Joseph A. Eldridge, Ira F. Fuller, Mark L. Herron, Raymond W. Kearney, Jacob C. McKeon, Liane C. Murphy, Samuel J. Mustain, Maurice C. Myers, August G. Rehmeyer, Eldridge T. Spencer, Roy W. Vollman, Thomas A. Wotten, E. George Young, Montgomery and Albert G. Simpson.

F. J. Lewis of Oakland and W. H. Steely of Berkeley were approved yesterday as enlistments in the signal corps for active service. Edwin J. Ball, 59, Thirty-third street, was one of four sergeants of the quartermaster's enlisted reserve corps ordered into active service as chauffeurs.

Of the nine additional names added to those who are to attend the second training camp, is that of Second Lieutenant Wilber F. Swett of Palo Alto.

A shortage of cooks and horseshoers has been announced by Lieutenant James E. Hague, assistant to Lieutenant-Colonel Walter L. Clarke in charge of the recruiting for the signal reserve corps. Three battalions of the reserve corps were organized for this department and have been filled to full strength. There remains, however, a shortage of cooks and horseshoers.

Women Less Truthful Than Men But Judge Adores Them Still

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 21.—Filled with the conviction that women are more fond than men of draping and veiling the goddess of truth, Superior Judge Russ Avery of Los Angeles—just appointed by Governor Stephens—is about to take the bench to decide upon cases of matrimonial shipwreck.

His conclusion has been reached after twenty years of standing before the bar of justice to plea the causes of husbands and wives punning to bid each other a permanent farewell. At all that time he himself remained a bachelor, a man of pristine engagement. His present belief cannot be put down to personal experience, but merely to observation.

But he protests at being put down as a woman hater, so the wives who expect to take their complaints into court need not feel that they will be the victims of prejudice. Judge Avery states that he really "just adores women" and that he has for them the greatest and highest regard.

MAN MORE TRUTHFUL.

Here is what he had to say on the subject of the truth, women, men and domestic disturbances in general:

"A man is more inclined to tell the whole truth, even though that effect may be adverse to him. But the women—well, they do not seem to appreciate the importance of the whole story being told, and are inclined to give themselves the benefit of any doubt that may exist."

"Because I'm a bachelor do not feel that that will affect my judgment in any way, for I am just chock full of sympathy and I have had many tales of woe poured in my ears. I think I know what it is to be unhappily married."

"Shall I judge man by the same standard that I will judge the women? Well, that's a hard question. Ordinarily a man is inclined to take all the blame upon himself to protect the woman. He is more generously inclined toward the woman than she is toward him."

ADORES WOMEN.

"Shall I seek to bring couples together again. Not much. When the reach court it is usually too late, for their lawyers, if they are honest, have already tried to do that, and a Judge cannot well succeed where they have failed. But they will all have to have real causes of action. Just wait until I catch someone trying to put one across with me!"

And the Judge's eyes snapped when he said it.

"Make this certain," he added. "I am not a woman hater. I just adore women. I pretty girl—ah, I adore that. I admire beauty in women as in the whole story being told, and I admire brains and wholesomeness in them as I do in men. For women I have the greatest and highest regard."

"Because I'm a bachelor do not feel that that will affect my judgment in any way, for I am just chock full of sympathy and I have had many tales of woe poured in my ears. I think I know what it is to be unhappily married."

Colonel Charles D. Murray of General White's staff sold the same name at the Commercial Club luncheon.

San Francisco, when both spoke yesterday, said: "It is perfectly surprising," he said, "what women can and will do. I believe that your women are women. Reorganize your industrial forces and face what may come with the same spirit that you have always faced your problems, and the cause of humanity, which is the cause of all of us, is safe."

General White and his staff yesterday inspected the "Grizzlies" at their training camp. "This is a wonderful regiment," declared General White. "It has attained within a week a point of proficiency that the average regiment is given a month to arrive at. They are of the stuff that will win this war for the allies."

New Hair Remover In Demand, Say Druggists

(Phelactine Removes Roots and All)

Since the virtues of phelactine as a hair remover became generally known, druggists in this country have been having extraordinary demand for this remarkable product.

The fact that it actually removes the roots—before one's very eyes—as well as the surface hair, is, of course, mainly responsible for its large and increasing popularity.

It is now being sold at all drugstores, and can be purchased at all of the usual depilatory, electrical or other processes. It is entirely safe, non-irritating, non-poisonous, odorless—and instantaneous! A stick of phelactine used in conjunction with the slight friction which accompany it can be purchased anywhere on an money-back basis, so certain is it to satisfy and delight the user—Advertisement.

MAYOR TELLS OF SPIES ON WATERFRONT

That there have been three surveys of Oakland's waterfront and that one of them was made by a man who may have been a factor in the German espionage system as practiced prior to the world war, was the information given the city council today by Mayor Davis.

"Dr. Werner Hirschmann, who made a report on city planning, is now fighting against the allies, I understand," said the mayor. "Maybe he made his survey of the Oakland waterfront as a German spy. We paid him a lot of money for it, too."

The mayor's outburst of information followed the statement of Commissioner E. F. Morse in explaining his negative vote against a $2,000,000 of the $16,697 tax ordinance.

Commissioner Morse said that he had hoped there would be unanimity on the adoption of the ordinance, so that it would be impossible for him to vote for it in as much as it does not include funds for a survey of the waterfront as he desired as head of the harbor department. He said he also believed some provision should be made for purchase of certain park sites.

"There have been three surveys made already," declared the mayor. "Colonel Thomas Rees, Dr. Hirschmann and K. M. Henningsen have each made surveys. What we need is another."

Commissioner Jackson said that his negative vote on the ordinance was be-

DIES OF INJURIES

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 21.—The victim of a terrible boating accident on July 24, in connection with an attack by robbers in his room at the Grand Union Hotel, Thomas Clark, retired capitalist of Johnson, Tennessee, died this morning at the Fairmont Hospital. Clark, who was 70 years old, was exceedingly eccentric in his care of his money and it was this that indirectly cost him his life. When he registered at the hotel July 24 he placed $100 in the safe, at the same time exhibiting considerable more. That night two men entered his room, beat him severely and escaped with $500 which he had sewed in his undershirt, and a gold watch and chain.

Detective Frank McGranahan, who investigated, later found $240 more under the carpet in Clark's room.

cause no allowance has been made for a police ambulance, that motorization of the fire department has been hampered, the health department placed in a position where "it looks like a menace to the city" and the woodway closed. The ordinance was passed over the votes of Morse and Jackson.

ART AUCTION TO AID PATRIOTISM

TO HOLD SERVICE FOR MRS. DE GOLIA

A unique benefit for the Red Cross and the American boys who may fall on the field of battle is the art auction whose date is already named for three evenings, beginning September 5. Official Oakland is to step aside in the cause of art and patriotism, and for once the entrance of the city hall with its rotunda and winding stairs is to be the scene of the brilliant throng. Red Cross nurses in their picturesque uniforms are to be in attendance while between the auctioning of a concert "unique" will be provided.

Alfred Stewart is superintending the arrangements for the musical features, claiming some of the best talent in California on the program.

The auctioneer has been chosen from the ranks of the popular "movie" men who are spending the month in the city. The artists under Finn Froehlich are expecting to raise $10,000 to turn over to the Red Cross. Already thirty pictures have been contributed, with more being sent in each day by the artists in this part of the state.

WOMEN'S REQUEST FOR $1200 DENIED

By the adverse votes of Mayor Davis and Commissioners Edwards and Scherberg the council today refused the request of the Alameda County Woman's Committee of the State and National Defense to include $1200 in the budget to be used in the care of vagrant women. # J.C. FIGHTS "CARRIERS" OF TYPHOID BERKELEY, Aug. 21.—Plans for a general move to have all physicians, in all parts of the state, report at once to the State Board of Health any "typhoid carriers," or "diphtheria carriers," and to require them to undergo medical examination, to trace the malady to its source, are being gotten under way by the State Bureau of Communicable Diseases, with headquarters in the University of California.

Huntington, party of "carriers"—and it is next that, out of every 100,000 cases become "typhoid carriers," spreading the disease broadcast while not having it long—will be the principal objective of the physicians planning a general drive of typhoid in the state. "Carriers," if not isolated, will be forced to sign a contract with the State Board of Health agreeing not to touch any food supply for general consumption and to observe certain sanitation rules to be laid down.

This work is being carried on as it was started by Dr. G. G. Cummings, former director of the bureau, and now a captain in the National Guard, and General corps. Captain Cummings is the man who traced the epidemic of typhoid in Bakersfield a few months ago to a "typhoid carrier," a woman who was in default on a necessary contract with the board of health, since when no more cases have been traced.

PHYSICIANS TO AID. The bureau will ask all physicians to trace their cases, aiming to definitely find any carriers, as well as to look after sanitary conditions which might lead to the outbreak of the disease. These cases will be kept under close watch, and the carriers will be checked.

According to the health experts, a typhoid carrier, after recovery, will be contagious for one month, a "patch" of germs, which are spread, through the original patient, in the progress of the disease, has gone through a form of auto-inoculation. It is this that makes the case difficult to detect, and special bacteriological tests can determine at once if the person suspected is a "carrier."

These "carriers" sometimes carry the germs for many months, years, and sometimes for a lifetime.

The diphtheria carriers are usually less dangerous, in that their "carrying" properties are usually not for a few months duration, are quarantined, and the case would quickly halt the spread of this disease. An example of improper quarantine is cited by Dr. Cummings in a case at the Paraflores, where a child brought there after it was believed she had been cured in Oakland, was proved to be the carrier that spread it to other children in the lighthouse station.

TRACED TO CARRIERS.

In Crockett, Contra Costa county, investigation by the board of the recent diphtheria outbreak shows that many children were temporary carriers, spreading the disease, and that with lax methods of quarantining the epidemic would have lasted fully five years. There were several deaths in the three epidemics mentioned.

Physicians of the state are now being written to by the bureau in the proposed "typhoid drive."

RUSS CONFERENCE

MOSCOW, Aug. 21.—The sitting of the state conference August 25-27 to consider the political situation and plans for the national government will be held in the great state theater here. The public will not be admitted, but places have been reserved for the diplomatic corps.

Premier Kérensky, who will preside, will present at the opening of the session on August 25 a statement on the political situation and the economic life of the country.

REGISTRATION AT U. C. THIS YEAR IS 5006

BERKELEY, Aug. 21.—The University of California's total registration this year is 5006, an against 3611 of last year, according to final figures just today by the recorder of the facilities. This shows a decrease to the university authorities a total of 665 or more drawn from the ranks of the university by the selective draft.

The registration shows a marked increase in women students and a corresponding decrease in the men attending college this term, and even the freshman registration is seriously affected. The following table prepared by the registrar in regard to the largest freshman class in history, this expectation being based on lists of California high school graduates, shows the increase in student numbers from the enrollment of 107 freshman last year added to the incoming class figures, but of the new students many will be called out again by the draft.

There are 306 graduate students this year and 90 new students in the medical school. The independence course has registered 75.

RULING RELEASES RICH OIL LANDS

Oil lands in California worth millions of dollars which have been litigation between the government and private owners since the Taft withdrawal order of September, 1907, are to be again free for development, according to the decision of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, setting aside the receiverships of the North American and Consolidated Oil Companies, owned by Louis Titus and associates. The decision is regarded as a sweeping victory for the oil men who have been fighting in the courts for ten years for this very relief.

The ruling holds that the government cannot regain possession of oil lands here, prior to the withdrawal order, there was occupation of the land and diligent production of work which led to the discovery of oil or gas subsequent to 1907. The law is also interpreted to mean that where it is proved that there was development work on a quarter-section of a holding it would apply to the entire property, if not being necessary to prove the development of each particular well.

Judge Erskine M. Ross wrote the decision, which was concurred in by Judge William H. Hunt. In a dissenting opinion Judge William B. Gilbert held that the lower court did not exceed its authority in appointing a receiver and that the only point the court is called upon to decide is the question of the receivership. It is understood that the government will appeal to the United States Supreme Court, using Judge Gilbert's opinion as a basis for argument.

In the majority decision it is held that the government contention that proof must be made of the actual drilling of wells prior to September, 1907, is too "narrow a view to take of the statute." The government charged in the two cases before the court that location notices were filed by "dummies" operating in the interest of J. M. McLeod and L. B. Murphy, who later disposed of the holdings in Alameda county, to the present owners, for several millions of dollars.

That there is not the slightest showing of fraud or lack of good faith on the part of the two companies or their predecessors in interest is held by the court, which says:

"True, the bills of the government which were verified by an agent upon information and belief, alleged that the location notices were posted by 'mere dummies' to enable the defendant McLeod or some one else to obtain the land. The allegations were put in issue by positive denial under oath and there was no undertaking to sustain the charge."

VICTIM RECOVERS

With favorable reports from the county infirmary as to the condition of Valencia Siva of Hayward who was badly injured in a fight Saturday night at the Occidental Hotel in the neighboring city, it is probable that Ed Lawrence, his alleged assailant, will not have to face a more serious charge than battery. Hospital attachés say this morning that Siva is not suffering from a fractured skull as first reported. It is alleged that Lawrence hit Siva on the head and face with a bottle. Sheriff Frank Barnet and Deputy Sheriff Joe Scares made the arrest.

SCOLDS; DESERTED

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 21.—Mrs. Margaret J. Reinhardt, Bakersfield, trained nurse, told Superior Judge Thomas Graham this morning that her husband of seven days, Werner, artist and clubman, had deserted her while she slept after she had upbraided him for neglect. She was given a decree of divorce. The Reinhardts were married March 20, 1915. On the evening of the 27th, Mrs. Reinhardt says, she took friend husband to task because he had remained out the previous night. There was a quarrel and when she awoke the next morning she found that he had left the house.

HEN CAN CROW

RICHMOND, Aug. 21.—A hen that crows like a rooster, but otherwise performs all the functions of her sex, is the freak of nature owned by Joseph Levaggi, a rancher of San Pablo. Levaggi is at a loss to account for the strange actions of the hen, which is a good layer and has raised several broods of chickens. The hen is two years old.

FEAR HOOKWORM

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—Discovery of hook worm infection in 47 out of 70 military recruits recently sent to be mobilized for war service has caused public health service authorities to recommend prompt examination of all units of the national guard and national army at present organized, especially those from the western portions of the country.

Danger of a widespread epidemic of hookworm in Europe is pointed out, if even light cases are sent to the trenches. Those dangers can be presented to a very great extent, authorities say, if recruits are systematically examined for intestinal parasites and either treated in the American training camps or discharged as necessity indicates.

NEW U. C. CLASSES

BERKELEY, Aug. 21.—One hundred University Extension classes for men and women at work throughout the day are being planned, to be taught as evening schools, in San Francisco and Oakland this year, according to the announcement of the University of California extension bureau. Similar classes are also to be organized in Los Angeles beginning next September.

Among the teachers to assist in the work in Southern California will be Professor E. P. Bowring, director of the department of scientific languages; Professor C. H. Rieber, head of the department of philosophy; Professor J. C. Merriman, head of the department in Latin; Professor S. Holway, of the department of physical geography; James T. Allen, associate professor in Greek, and George P. Adams, associate professor of philosophy.

MRS. BEBB HEARD IN $50,000 SUIT

Relation by Mrs. Rose C. Bebb of meetings, automobile rides, dinners and conversations occupied the morning session today of the trial before a jury in Judge William H. Waste's department of the Superior Court of her $50,000 breach of promise suit against Hull McClaughry, divorced husband of Anita Baldwin, of Jacks, Baldwin. The alleged events in question took place three and three years ago, and the plaintiff's memory of dates was for the most part vague and uncertain.

Mrs. Bebb testified that her first meeting with Hull McClaughry was in August of 1914. Miss Elizabeth Toll, a daughter of Miss Dorothy E. Bebb, daughter of the plaintiff, and of Miss Dexter McClaughry, daughter of the defendant, testified that the meeting of the parents of her two friends, Mrs. Bebb and Hull McClaughry, took place one afternoon in the Saddle Rock cafe.

At that time Mrs. Bebb was residing in Berkeley in the same house with her husband, Mr. Bebb, from whom she had separated an hour before their divorce, and with her son and daughter. The plaintiff told of numerous occasions when McClaughry called for her and took her out for automobile rides. He met her husband at one dinner, she said, and their dinner was one evening.

NOT HAPPY HERSELF.

On their fifth outing together, Mrs. Bebb said that McClaughry told her that he was unhappy and miserable over domestic troubles. Mrs. Bebb replied that she was not very happy herself.

Through their meetings, the plaintiff was on a ride to the Carlton Inn, where Mrs. Zaida Scofield and Henry Toll were McClaughry's guests. The next day McClaughry telephoned and invited Mrs. Bebb for another automobile ride.

McClaughry, she testified, told her that he had recently planned to move it, but that he had been requested by the government not to interrupt the work or disturb the plant now.

De Laceys, editor of the Leader, and Daniel J. Hartigan, a shoe-storekeeper, charging specifically an attempt to liberate Gertrude E. von Shack from his internment in Fort McDowell. Although Consul Frank Bopp was mentioned as being one of those whom it was hoped to liberate and smuggle into Mexico, his name is not mentioned in connection with the charges.

A third alleged conspirator for whom the United States marshal has been searching ever since the arrest of De Laceys and Hartigan, and who is still at liberty. According to United States Attorney John W. Preston, he has fled the country.

De Laceys and Hartigan were caught as the result of a ruse adopted by the United States attorney's office in bringing in a prosecution against Patrick J. Farley, an immigration inspector, who, it is claimed, was the intermediary between them and Von Shack.

Garis' BEDTIME STORIES

(By Howard R. Garis)

"Uncle Wiggily," said Nurse Jane Fuzz-Wuzz, the muskrat lady housekeeper, "as you are in the kitchen of the hollow stems bungalow one morning, 'you were so good about making the mince pie the time you cinammoned the fox maybe you'd like to try your paw at something else.'

"Yes, I did have jolly good luck with that pie," agreed Uncle Wiggily. "What next would you like me to make?"

"How about jam tarts?" asked the muskrat lady. "I have a pot of jam, and all you'd have to do would be to make the pie crust parts, with the three little round holes in the top one, and put the jam between."

"I can easily do that," said the bunny.

"Then I'll go downtown shopping in the two and three cent store," said Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy, and leave you to the "Good!" cried Uncle Wiggily, twinkling his pink nose.

Into the kitchen he went, and there on the table he found the pot of jam, just as Nurse Jane had said he would.

"There were also flour, water, lard and other things to make the pie crust, out of which he would cut the little round pieces for the top crust, so as to have three holes in it where the tarts could see what kind of jam was in the tarts."

"Now for a good time!" cried the bunny, making his pink nose twinkle like a copper plater.

He began to mix the dough for the pie crust part of the tarts almost as he had done for the mince pie. Next he cut out the round parts for the bottom and the cover in the last, not forgetting the three holes which he made with Nurse Jane's thimble that she used only on Christmas.

At last on the table Uncle Wiggily had the crust part of the tart ready, and he was not going to spread the jam on and put the tarts together when all of a sudden in through the window hopped three bad rats. Indeed, there were very bad rats, indeed.

"Do you mean me or the jam tarts?" asked the bunny. "If you want some I'll take extra ones for you, as there are now only enough for Nurse Jane and myself. We don't care if we eat the first rat, it's inconsiderate like and saucy."

"We want you!"

"Did you say 'we'?" asked Uncle Wiggily, looking at the jam tarts, and wondering if the rats had come for them.

"Not yet, but we're going to," said the second rat.

"You come for me or the jam tarts?"

"Do you want me or the jam tarts?" asked the bunny.

"Before you take me away," he said,

"would you mind doing me favor?"

"Well," said Uncle Wiggily, twinkling his pink nose slyly like and unimportant, "I'd like to have you take some of these tarts to Grandmother Bonaparte. You can eat some of it letting me put your tails through the holes in the tarts, tying a knot in them—in your tail, I mean—and then you can pull them along the ground like a sled."

All the bunnies, the mice, the first rat,

"The tarts to our tails, but, mind you, we'll take you along with us, and carry you to the fox after we leave the tarts for Mr. Gander."

"Oh dear!" cried poor Uncle Wiggily.

The rats were very big, and there had rheumatism that day, so they could only drag him away with the tail.

"The tarts to the tails, and then the first rat,

"the tarts to our tails, but, mind you, we'll take you along with us, and carry you to the fox after we leave the tarts for Mr. Gander."

"Well," said Uncle Wiggily,

He reached up to the box that he had indicated, pressed down a little catch, opened the back and looked in. Again an exclamation escaped him.

He put in a hand gingerly, and, tenderly impaling the bird which he found therein, drew it forth, his long fingers gently lifting its wings, examining its legs.

It could easily be seen that the box was arranged with a door on a tripping-latch, so that the pugon, on entering, would imprison itself. It was apparent that Jefferson was depending upon the natural homing instinct of his carrier pigeons to bring him word of his success.

"I told them," said he, "to lose a half dozen birds at once. See? See?"

He unrolled from one leg of the prisoner a little cylinder of paper covered with tinfoil and tied firmly in its place.

It was the first wireless message ever received at Washington. None since that time has carried a greater burden. It announced a transaction in empires.

Mr. Jefferson read, and spread out the paper that his aid might read.

"General Bonaparte signed May 22—

Fifteen millions—Rejoice!"

In no wider phrasing than that came the news of the great Louisiana Purchase, by virtue of which this republic, whether by chance or by result of greed, warring with itself or through the treachery of Almighty God, who, it is said, gained that vast and incalculable valuable realm which reaches from the Mississippi to the Pacific Ocean. What wealth that great empire held no man had dreamed nor can any dream today for a century later, its story is but beginning.

And the rats, each one with its tail knotted in a hole in the hard top part piece, couldn't get loose. But they pulled each other all over and finally were so scared that they ran away together, leaving Uncle Wiggily alone.

HUTCHINSON WILL PLEAD SELF DEFENSE

With the full realization of the ordeal confronting him, George Richard Hutchinson, aged Key Route watchman and former prospector of the Sierra mother lode, has taken a new grip on the situation and is preparing to wage a fight for his freedom. He appeared in the police court on arraignment today, charged with the murder of W. H. Storms, former state mineralogist, whom he shot and instantly killed Sunday morning at the watchman's hut near the Key Route subways.

Indications are that Hutchinson will make a plea of self-defense when the case comes up in the Superior Court. A searching investigation will be made by friends of the defendant to check up the old man's story of his prospecting experiences in the high Sierra in the Hell Hole country, "the jail of rattlesnakes," over a period of twenty years.

PROBLEM FOR DEFENSE.

Why Storms should have gone out of his way to visit the old man and then enter into a violent quarrel, as claimed, with him over a "phantom mine" is a question that the defense will endeavor to clear up in the trial of the case.

Statements made by members of Storms' family to the effect that Storms had $300 on his person Sunday morning and that the sum was missing is also being investigated.

Half-breeds Indians, mining experts and characters of the Hell Hole country will figure in the legal battle for vindication of the old prospector. His tale of the mountains and his long search for gold, which will enter into the testimony will undoubtedly add an interesting and romantic chapter to the records.

DEAL LEADS TO DEATH.

With the prospects of hidden wealth as the result of his long years of probing into the mountain sides, Hutchinson relates that he consulted Storms as an expert three years ago and after negotiations with him to develop or sell the mine. Since that time he says he has been unable to obtain any satisfactory conclusion over the deal with the result that he came to the decision that he was being victimized.

ULSTER' IS THEME

Ulster's place in the new Ireland will be one of the most important topics of discussion at the big folk gathering to be held in Shellbound Park next Sunday, under the auspices of the Ulster, Farmanagh and Donegal Society, one of the largest and most powerful organizations of Ulster men and women in America. More than 10,000 are expected at the festa.

The program will include some of the most graceful and accomplished Irish dancers on the Pacific Coast. Dr. J. M. Toner will be orator of the day. Included on the committee in charge are Charles C. Noone, Patrick Tierney, John F. Utian, James Terney, Andrew McCarron, William Haggerty, James Farrell, Hugh McLaughlin, John P. Daley, James A. Carroll, James Moran and Patrick Hurley.

SUITS FOR STOCK

Delmar L. Thornbury, Oakland attorney, filed suit yesterday to recover $5000 in stock given as part payment for a farm which he purchased from Lawrence S. Jennings at Wheatland. Thornbury charges in his suit that Jennings had misrepresented the property and had allowed a tenant to remain on it without charge in order to enhance its value in the eyes of the purchaser and thus facilitate its sale. Thornbury also seeks to have his note for $2000 canceled and the sale abrogated.

BUYER NOW SUES

Mrs. Minnie B. Bauerhan has filed suit for damages against W. T. Reed, managing director of the Rogue River Orchard Company, alleging that the company had misrepresented orchard lands in the Rogue River country in Oregon and by fraud induced her to invest $1652.50 in orchard lands which she says are not worth $100, and will not grow fruit of any kind.

GILLIHAN BEGINS

SANTA ROSA, Aug. 21.—Dr. Allen Gillihan, new district health officer named for this district under the recently enacted law providing health officers for each of six California health districts, has opened offices in the Santa Rosa courthouse. Del Norte, Humboldt, Mendocino, Sonoma, Napa and Lake counties form his district.

American lake is to be the mecca for the honeymooners within the next few weeks. To be sure Uncle Sam has made it the rallying point for hundreds of his stalwart sons who are to bear the colors to victory. But love and war have ever gone hand-in-hand, and a whole procession of our charming girls who have given their hearts and pledged their troth are determined that as long as their bridegrooms are on American soil they will be as near to them as camp regulations allow. Miss Carmen Ghirardelli has hastened her wedding plans with George W. Baker Jr. by several weeks that a brief honeymoon may be enjoyed before together they leave next mid-week for the lake, where Baker has been ordered to report. The marriage will be solemnized tomorrow at high noon at the Piedmont home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Thomas Watson Cushing. But a small company of family members will witness the ceremony, which, however, will be followed by reception, for which several scores of the smart set will be present. There have been few weddings of the season of so great a social importance as these "war brides" more popular. The Ghirardelli and Baker families are numbered with the pioneers of the state.

Miss Ghirardelli was graduated from one of the most exclusive schools on this side of the bay, afterward traveling extensively before making her formal debut. Since the outbreak of the war she has given largely of her time to the various phases of service which has been for the relief of the soldiers. Miss Ghirardelli is related to many of the well-known families in California and claims among her cousins Miss Almae Jones, bride, Miss Elva Ghirardelli, Miss Juanita Ghirardelli, Mrs. Benjamin Reed.

Baker is the son of Mrs. George W. Baker, who is now making her home in Piedmont. The Bakers have been identified with the history of Nevada, although the old home for many years was in the Lakeside district. Among the sons of the household are Ray Baker of Washington, D. C., director of mints and secretary former Ambassador George T. Mary in Russia, and the late Cleveand Baker, attorney general of Nevada, whose widow was the former Miss Panama Perkins, daughter of Senator George W. Perkins. Baker is a graduate of the summer's class and is a member of the Beta Phi fraternity. He was in the first officers' reserve training camp at the Presidio, winning his commission.

Miss Florence Woolsey is just another of the girls of the smart set who has turned her back on society and its frivolities. She has decided upon a career. For some months Miss Woolsey has been a student of the latest kindergarten methods and won her sheepskin with honors. Now she is about to put her learning into practice. She has accepted a position in Santa Rosa as instructor in one of the important classes for little tots and is determined to do what a girl with brains and training can do. In the meantime she will be greatly missed by the younger set, who will have to content themselves with brief week-end visits home. While in Sonoma County Miss Woolsey will be the house guest of her aunt, Mrs. C. H. Dwinelle. She has just returned for a several weeks' visit in Seattle, where she spent some delightful days with her uncle, Frank Woolsey, and cousin, Mrs. Robert Parker. The Woolsey residence in Rainier Park is one of the show places in the north of the city.

PEACE WITHOUT HYPOCRISY.

The safety of the world, in short, cannot be secured by any promise the Hohenzollerns and Hapsburgs can make, whether made at a peace conference or elsewhere. It can be secured only when Germany and Austria are unable to violate the peace of the world. Germany and Austria must not be fettered in their growth, but the power of their present rulers to turn the world into a charnel house at pleasure must be fettered. No peace can be considered which does not make it impossible for them to inaugurate again a raid on the human race.—
The New York Times.

The above is an admirable statement of what is required on the allies' part before they can consider peace. Any less frank demand will mark a turning toward hypocrisy.

No good can possibly come out of hypocritical statements as to peace conditions or any attempt to conceal any object or purpose of the war. To talk of peace without victory or with reparations is stupid. The allies must achieve a decisive victory in order that peace may be secure; if it is necessary to exact reparation in order that the people of the central powers may realize the crimes their rulers have committed in the name of the people, even though the pecuniary value of that reparation be only one dollar or one franc, then reparation we must have.

It is equally idle to talk of peace with honor to the Hohenzollern autocrats and their brutal military agents. To give them honor would be to conceal their foul dishonor and to ask the peoples of other countries to respect men who have violated every recognized right of man.

As the Times goes on to say:

"Germany's evacuation of Belgium will not make Belgium safe from another attack, but her evacuation of Alsace-Lorraine will. Austria's evacuation of Serbia will not make Serbia or Italy safe from attack, but her evacuation of Trent and Istria will. Their evacuation of Rumania will be no assurance of the safety of Europe, but their evacuation of Rumanian Transylvania will. A bogus Kingdom of Poland under a German Viceroy will not prevent a new attack on Russia, but a free Kingdom of Poland, such as Russia is willing to set up, will."

"Such assurances as this would make the world safe for democracy, and would make peaceful peoples free from the constant Hohenzollern and Hapsburg menace. No menace from any other powers overhangs them. These assurances must be included in the peace, or all that the world has fought for will be in vain."

WHY NOT TO THE PEOPLE?

Mr. James W. Gerard, former American ambassador to Germany, has written an account of his experiences and many of his official acts while in Berlin, which are now being printed in certain newspapers and subsequently are to be published in book form. The Philadelphia Public Ledger has secured from Mr. Gerard the exclusive right of publication, and for a monetary consideration.
The Philadelphia paper has copyrighted the writings of Mr. Gerard and is thus protected against the publication of them by any other paper, without its permission, by the federal copyright laws.

This procedure is altogether proper so far as the Public Ledger is concerned. But serious question exists as to the propriety of the conduct of Mr. Gerard and the government at Washington.
Among the published documents, copyrighted, is an autographed memorandum for the President of the United States penned by the German Kaiser.
The original rests in the archives of the State Department, is a public document and the property of the American people. It is an important document and embodies an important confirmation of the motives of Germany in violating Belgium neutrality, a confession by the German ruler that "the neutrality of Belgium had to be violated" for strategic reasons.

In giving the Kaiser's note out for publication the State Department, or the White House—whatever was responsible—should have utilized all the mediums of publicity. Every newspaper in the country was entitled to receive it; every citizen to receive a copy of it without having to pay a Philadelphia publisher for it.

The government in this case has committed the serious offense of giving public property to an individual for private financial profit. The note from the Kaiser is a valuable contribution to the history of the war and to Prussian ruthlessness and it goes far to reveal the great patience exercised by President Wilson in maintaining neutrality as long as he did. As soon as circumstances permitted its publication it should have been announced to all the people and not surreptitiously handed over to James W. Gerard of New York, former administration official, to peddle to the highest bidder for his personal reward.

If the administration desires to retain the confidence of the people it should refrain from repeating such an offense. Official documents should be given out for publication through regular channels at the national capital.

SHORTAGE IN COAL GROWS MOST ACUTE

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE.
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—So serious does President Wilson consider the coal situation that he today called off the regular cabinet meeting and cancelled a number of important engagements in order that he personally can cope with it.

In announcing this fact the White House took occasion to characterize as "misleading" reports that Judge Robert S. Lovett had been clothed with dictatorial powers to deal with the fuel shortage. The President has designated Judge Lovett as "priority commissioner," the White House said, in order that he can relieve the situation in the Northwest, which is getting worse. He can do this through the orders issued by him last night compelling all railroads to carry fuel either to lake ports for trans-shipment or directly into Northwest territory.

The President will decide on the coal dictator today, if possible. He has a list of names on his desk at the present time. This dictator will be, officials say, the strongest man that can be found, as his task will be no easy one.

Intelligent distribution with points distant from the mines the first to be cared for also will be necessary, and this makes it essential that the coal dictator shall have had some transportation experience.

REGULATION OF TRADE CONCERNED URGED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—Legislation regulating the activity of trade associations is needed to curb the increasing tendency to convert them into price-fixing organizations. Congress was informed today in a report by the Federal Trade Commission on the book paper inquiry.

The investigation revealed, the commission declared, that the book paper manufacturers' organ made a practice of conveying to its members information that made it possible for them to make concerted price increases.

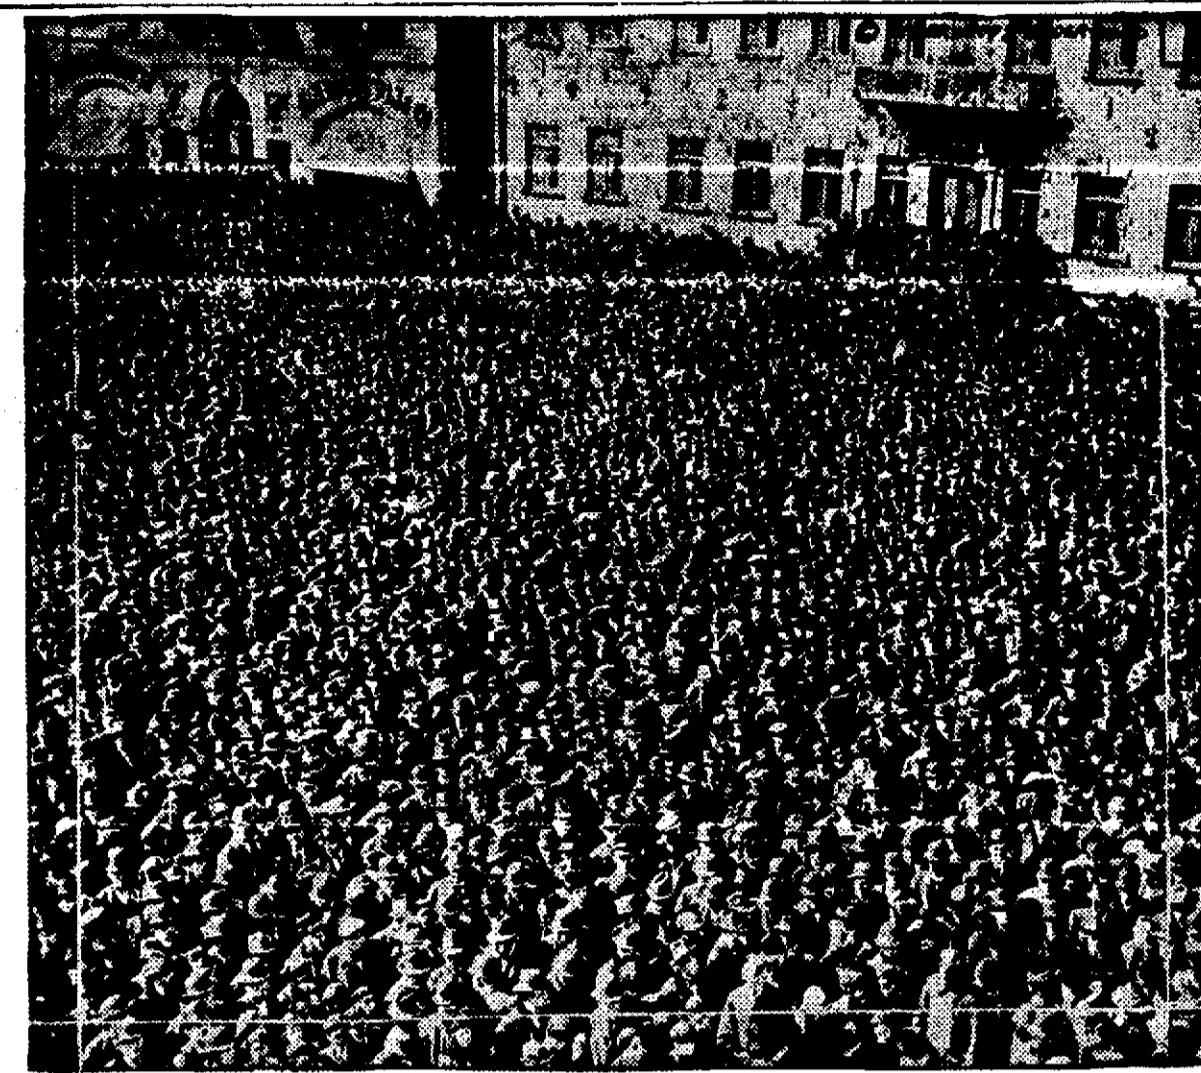

Secretary of Labor Wilson today left for Alabama personally to attempt mediation in the coal mine labor difficulties there.

Rumors that a price already has been set for the country's supply of coal were dispelled yesterday, when it was announced the food administration will set a figure on September 1.

Reports that the price had been set at $150 and various other marks were today characterized as the final efforts to sway the markets for speculative purposes.

'WATER CURE' ENDS RIOT IN PRISON

Social Leader Has Gun; Gets Burglar to Return Gems

CHICAGO, Aug. 21.—Mrs. Robert J. Thorne, society leader at the fashionable Lake Forest suburb, captured a daring burglar who broke into the Thorne apartment early today and at the point of a revolver made him disgorge $7000 worth of jewelry he had stuffed in his pockets.

The burglar registered as John Jonah, 17. He is believed to be the same crook that stole $10,500 in gems from Caroline White, opera singer, a few weeks ago.

NEED GREAT SUM FOR DESTROYERS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—The United States will have to advance upward of $400,000,000 if it is to get the great flotilla of latest type destroyers which the naval board declares is necessary for the navy to cope with the submarine menace.

This money will be advanced to owners of private shipyards adapted to destroyer construction. It will be needed for machinery, buildings and additions to plants.

Secretary of the Navy Daniels, Rear Admiral Taylor, chief of construction, and Rear Admiral Griffin, chief of engineering and yards, today began consideration of the offer made by the shipping representatives.

It is expected that the offer will be accepted. All of the reports of the officers engaged in the work of hunting submarines and in converting transports and supply ships agree that the real remedy for the submarine menace is a modern destroyer of the latest type.

While the navy department is considering the general proposition of the other shipbuilders, it has accepted the renewed plan of the Bethlehem Steel Company to construct standardized destroyers at a certain yard. The first of these destroyers will be ready in the fall, and thereafter two additional will be turned over to be modified and commissioned each week.

These craft will be standardized in every particular so that construction time can be reduced to the lowest possible minimum.

TO SWEAR IN IRBY

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 21.—According to official notice from Washington, Justus Wardell, surveyor of the port, will resign this position Thursday, immediately assuming his place as collector of internal revenue. Colonel John S. Irby will be sworn in as the new surveyor of the port at that time. Irby is visiting in Los Angeles, but word was sent him yesterday to return for the inauguration ceremony.

The revenue office will be closed to business tomorrow while necessary preparations are made for incoming officials. Special Revenue Agent C. E. Foulden, whose work is that of transferring the revenue accounts from Acting Collector John M. Platt to the new collector, began work immediately upon hearing that the ceremonial of induction was scheduled for Thursday.

Don't Strain Your Eyes, But Wear Good Glasses

In order that your glasses give clear vision and relieve eye-strain, it is absolutely necessary that they should be ground precisely right. It is surprising how many neglect their eyes and are wearing unsuitable glasses—then wonder why it is that their eyes are uncomfortable. The reason usually is that the eyes have changed and require new glasses—often it is simply due to the glasses being out of adjustment, or it may be due to the fact that they have not been made strictly according to the prescription. You are absolutely sure of accurate glasses and good service by competent opticians at any of the California Optical Company's three stores: 1241 Broadway, Oakland; 181 Post St., and 2408 Mission St., San Francisco.

TENT CITY RISES FOR "RAINBOW"

By Hugh Baillie,
United Press Staff Correspondent.
HEMPSTEAD, N. Y., Aug. 21.—On a rolling plain flanked by millionaires' estates, with army airplanes constantly maneuvering high overhead, 25,000 American boys—the Rainbow division—are today mobilizing for war. They will be the first citizen soldiers to reach the trenches.

Camp Mills, where this Forty-second division of national guardsmen from all parts of the country will be quartered until it starts for France, is springing into existence like a magic city conjured up with Aladdin's lamp. A week ago the 400 acres over which it is spreading were pasture lands.

Soldier trench diggers, devouring the ground at the rate of three feet a minute, cut ditches for two miles of water pipes. A thousand soldiers from the Twenty-second Infantry laid out streets, made roads and with the aid of civilian laborers built 300 shower baths. Pits for the disposal of refuse were dug.

The vanguard of the troops now flocking here from all parts of the United States pitched their tents at one end of the reservation, temporary postoffices sprang up, the boys in khaki marched in, sentries were posted, women came running with bread and lemonade and Camp Mills was born.

120,000 POUNDS OF FOOD.

Today the camp routine is in full swing where the Sixty-ninth regiment of New York is stationed. A mile and a half away ambulance corps, artillery and sanitary corps, and civilian workers are still hammering away at field kitchens and guttering traverse streets. The place where division headquarters is to be is still a cornfield.

Colonel F. H. Lawton handled the construction work and is in charge of feeding the division. He estimated today that 125,000 pounds of food daily—counting boxes and crates—would be necessary. Colonel Lawton has established headquarters in a little red brick railroad depot at Clinton Road.

Everything possible has been done to safeguard the health of the soldiers. Roads are sprinkled with calcium chloride, reducing dust to the minimum. Great showers were constructed on a new plan—four showers to every company of 250 men. In the evenings the soldiers are showered in squads of 40—a steady procession marching under the water.

Five cooks are provided for each company and the food is prepared in tents carefully screened against insects. A watch will be kept on helmets who want to bring soft drinks and assorted tid-bits to the boys. Indiscriminate feeding out of hours, it is feared, will "ruin the men's stomachs," as one officer put it.

BIG TOP Y. M. C. A.

The tents occupied by the troops are conical shaped, regular army shelters of khaki-colored canvas, each one floored to protect the men from dampness. Tent stoves will be provided if the soldiers remain until cold weather. Such stoves, Colonel Lawton said, would keep the men comfortable even in below-zero weather. But present indications are the division will be in France before chilly weather comes. Each tent is fitted with regulation army cots.

In the midst of the tents a "big top" of white canvas, conspicuous among the brown army shelters, houses the Y. M. C. A. It contains places for letter-writing and has a store of books and magazines. An open-air motion picture screen will soon be erected. There the men will see movies of life in other army camps as well as plenty of comedies and war pictures.

Over a slight rise at one end of the camp thousands of acres are available for maneuvering. Trenches crisscross a part of this territory and aviators soar over it, photographing the earth works, dropping dummy bombs on an imaginary enemy.

WILL COME HERE

PEKING, Aug. 21.—The Austro-Hungarian minister attaches and consuls, whose departure was made necessary by China's declaration of war, probably will take a Dutch boat from Shanghai to San Francisco, crossing the United States en route to Vienna. The Dutch minister is arranging the departure.

TROOPS FREED

MADRID, Aug. 21.—The cabinet yesterday decided to send home all men recently called to the colors, owing to disturbances.

The cabinet approved a credit of 70,000,000 pesetas for the reorganization of the army and the manufacture of material, especially anti-aircraft guns and artillery.

Starvation Club Seeks in Vain to Elude Draft

MARTINEZ, Aug. 21.—Runners of a "starvation club" whose members quit eating until they were under the draft weight and drivers engaged in similar service under exemption claims, today caused local exemption boards to recall some of the most wily-like "splinter-weight" for re-examination. Reluctantly the idea that Contra Costa county's military was underfed and poorly nourished, the board started out to find the reason.

They found it. The "starvation club" has been living on cucumbers, beans, sour lettuce, epoxy salts and pickles. The judge of office has been a leather belt which is set up one hole each day. Exemption is guaranteed. Most of those who took the training were said to have eluded Uncle Sam.

Now comes the recall by the exemption board, which has declared that the "thistle-downs" must weigh in again tonight together with all lightweight specimens.

Woe betide the unfortunate club members who have been indulging in such trifles.

He will be ordered back for active duty if he shows a variation of an ounce within the limit.

SHIP STRIKE VOTE

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—The shipyard strikers in this district, who are said to number nearly 12,000, expect no opposition to their mass meeting in Tammany Hall this afternoon, when a vote probably will be taken to decide whether or not a general strike of shipyard workers in the United States is to be called. Such action it is said, would affect 250,000 men.

MASONS SECRET

PETROGRAD, Aug. 21.—Under the regime of the czar no secret societies of any sort were permitted to exist and lodge night was a pleasure unknown to Russian males.

SANTA CLARA TO ENTER STRONG TEAM IN TRIBUNE MARATHON

PERCY AND FERDIE—It's a Great Life if You Don't Weaken

Jimmy Fuller Will Head Group Of Runners From Santa Clara To Compete in Big Lake Race

Oakland Y. M. C. A. Preparing Strong Team

Santa Clara University will be represented by a strong team in The TRIBUNE Merritt Marathon. This was the news received yesterday from Jimmy Fuller, the crack distance runner, who during the summer months participates under the colors of the Olympic Club. Jimmy was a star runner while attending Mission High and has carried off many medals and has participated in the last three Merritt Marathons. Many people figure that he has the makings of a second Millard, and their opinions may work out, for he has been consistently improving during the past two years.

With Fuller at Santa Clara are Forward, the former San Jose High school star, and Farmer, a former Lowell High runner of great promise. The pruned belt college has a number of other boys in training for the event. Trainer Otto Fritsch, who has charge of the athletics at Santa Clara, is a former Oakland boy and he intends to enter a full team in order to prove his ability as a coach.

DR. H. L. DIETZ IS FIFTH TIMER.

Dr. H. L. Dietz, chairman of the Oakland Y. M. C. A. athletic committee, has been selected to act as the fifth timer for the event. Everybody knows Dr. Dietz. He was an athlete some years ago and at one time was physical director of the San Francisco Y. M. C. A., after which he studied medicine and is now a prominent local physician. He has kept up his interest in amateur sport and has been active in local Y. M. C. A. circles for some years past, officiating in all the Merritt Marathons.

W. A. Kearns, the new physical director of the Oakland Y. M. C. A., has arrived here to take his new position and has already made many friends. He is a graduate of Bellevue College and the University of Nebraska, at both of which institutions he was prominently identified with track and field work, his specialty being the field events. Kearns already has the Merritt Marathon fever and has promised to enter the strongest and largest team he can get together. His boys have been training for some time and now that he is on the ground to overlook the work, great results are expected. The local Y. M. C. A. has for the first time an experienced track man for its director, which means much for this branch of sport and what the Omaha Y. M. C. A. lost Oakland has gained.

REVISED RULES BEING PREPARED.

Entries are coming in at a good clip and in spite of the warnings many are received from those who have no P. A. A. registration card. Contestants are requested to pay particular attention to this as it is most important.

There will be no delay from the Playground Relay race this year, for at the suggestion of the playground directors the course for this event has been shortened and the youngsters will dress and start at the Auditorium. This means that the big race will start sharply at 10 o'clock. Watch these columns for the rules of the race which are now being revised by the referee.

Connie Meyers Meets Aileen Allen Sunday for the Diving Title

The Pacific Coast diving and swimming events will be inaugurated at Idora Park outdoor pool Sunday afternoon when the title for the spring board competition for women will be held.

The 100 women swimmers who will take part in the contest and as a special feature one national diving champion and one former champion have entered the contest.

Several weeks ago, local swimming fans had the pleasure of seeing Aileen Allen of the Los Angeles Athletic Club in a diving exhibition at Idora. Last year this versatile Southern California mermaid won the national diving championship for women. She defeated Connie Myers of the Multnomah Club, Portland, Oregon.

Her success, however, did not please the followers of the Portland girl appealed to the A. A. U. for a settlement of the controversy. The ruling board decided in favor of Aileen Allen.

This year the national championship was awarded the Portland club. The Los Angeles woman paddler was invited to compete, but failed to show and the national title passed to Connie Myers.

And now comes the Idora management with an announcement that these two aquatic stars will compete in the East Bay pool Sunday afternoon.

William Coffman, swimming commissioner for Idora, is lining up local talent and expects to have a strong showing of women swimmers in the diving competition.

The presence of Connie Myers gives the California swimming enthusiasts their first opportunity to see this noted performer in action.

Schroth Wins Five Events in Swim Meet

George Schroth, the Sacramento swimmer, who gained fame as the top-flight swimmer of the season, has a few weeks ago taken the swimmer's night as a result of taking first place in five of the seven events of a dual swimming and diving meet between the Neptune Club of Stockton and the Riverside Club of Sacramento. Sacramento events in which Schroth did not take first place were the diving events, in which he did not enter. Ralph Cruise, of Stockton, pressed Schroth hard in all events except the breaststroke, which he won by a wide margin. The divers, with two men on the paths, Martin and Welsh, won the 100 ft. 3 ft. 5 ft. 6 ft. and 10 ft. Next Sunday the Marin club will play the Hornets' game at Stockton, won the 20-foot high dive.

The Lincoln team started the second half season with but thirteen players, including four pitchers. Gregory, East, and West, and Johnson, and Schaeffer, the catchers, Schaeffer, Barnes, Hammer and Lamb make up the infield, and Bayless, Lober and Carlisle are the outfielders.

About the time fans begin to believe that there is no such animal as a triple play some club comes to the front and makes one. The Boston Braves are the latest to make one of these three-in-one killings and the Chicago Cubs were the victims.

FEW 1917 OAKS IN LINE FOR BERTHS WITH 1918 CLUB

BY CARL E. BRAZIER.

What of next year? Oakland fans are reconciled to the fact that their hopes early in the season have turned out to be merely their yearly nightmare. There is still a chance of landing in the first division, but the chance is slim, and with Leel Howard's club going to the in-and-out pace that it has been showing in the last few weeks. Attendance at the home games in which Oakland has appeared recently is fairly good, but the record of Oak fans has lost much of their interest in this year's club and it behooves Leel Howard to try and keep his players from leaving his club.

It is hard to see just where Howard will have the material for next year's club unless he steps out now and begins to gather it in. A new catching staff will be needed. Three new fielding catchers will be needed, and by the time the majors get through taking a grab at such players as Rod Murphy, Hack Miller and Roxey Middleton, there won't be much of the rest of the club to start with.

MURRAY IS RECALLED.

From this distance it looks like practically an entire new club for the Oaks in the 1917 season. In the 1916 options exercised by the manager, learned Eddie Murray is recalled to the St. Louis Americans. This will leave Mitze as the only catcher left for the Oaks, and if he stuck to his plans he signed up as a player for the 1917 season.

In the 1916 season the Oaks had a great little catcher and is rounding out the Oakland club in good shape in its time of need this year. But in the meantime, the old, half-baked, who can about the old oil pill a little more than Honus. With Murray has gone the brush and with Mitze on the doubtful list, it looks as though Howard will have to start out and pick up three catchers to start the 1917 season.

KRAUSE AND PROUGH GOOD.

Harry Krause looks good for several more years of good pitching. Clinton Prough is going right along at 100 percent now and does not look like he will stop for another five years. Happy Goodbird should have a better year next season under different club conditions than he has had this year and he has been a favorite with the fans all year.

In the pitching staff, Kremer, Beer and Allert have been hanging on all season, even so often cropping up as a display of them when it looks as though they were due to get going. But the season is now staring on its twenty-first week and they have not yet got going. One year of experiment with this kind of pitcher and all the fans want to know what will meet the mark at least three new pitchers right there.

Californians Win in Opening Matches of National Tennis Play

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Aug. 21.—Johnny Stratton and C. J. Griffin of San Francisco, and R. Lindle, Murphy, formerly of California, but now of Niagara Falls, are in the third round of the national tennis tournament today as a result of clearing up their affairs in yesterday's opening play. R. Norris Williams II of Boston, the present champion, is one of the early round favorites in the men's singles, and the first two rounds in which he easily disposed of opponents in the first two rounds. Miss Mary Browne showed a reversal of form in her exhibition match with Miss Molla Mallory, winning two out of three sets earlier in the season. Miss Browne has been generally a winner over Miss Bjurstedt.

Play will continue today in the third and fourth rounds in the tournament.

FIRST ROUND.

C. J. Griffin, San Francisco, defeated C. W. MacMullen, New York, 6-2, 6-3. T. R. Fell, New York, defeated W. Rosemann, New York, 6-3, 6-1. Peter Greenwade, b. s. (McDonald, old), 6-2, 6-3. Tommy Direct, b. s. (Snow) 3-6, 3-6. Also started: M. L. J. Harry J. S. Ridgemark, Pittsburgh; Harrod's Creek, Donna Clay, Time: 2:00, 2:07½, 2:07½.

SECOND ROUND.

T. R. Fell, Philadelphia, defeated T. C. Griffith, San Francisco, 6-1, 6-2. Karl H. Behr, New York, 6-4, 2-6, 6-0. A. A. Basford Jr., Hartsdale, N. Y., 6-1, 6-0. Douglas Watterson, New Orleans, defeated J. Allen, New York, 6-3, 6-1. Fred Thompson, Elizabeth, N. J., defeated H. C. Johnson, Boston, 6-4, 6-4. W. M. Washburn, New York, defeated H. T. Dickinson, Locust Valley, L. I., 6-3, 6-3.

H. S. Parker, Cedarhurst, L. I., defeated F. C. C. Innan, New York, 6-1, 6-2. Karl H. Behr, New York, 6-4, 2-6, 6-0. A. L. Dionne, New York, 6-4, 2-6, 6-0. N. N. Williams, Boston, defeated W. L. Fate, New York, 6-2, 6-2, completing first round.

LANE A DISAPPOINTMENT.

In the outfield, Billy Lane has been a disappointment this year. He was one of the first to be taken by the Oaks this year and the split-up of the Oaks this year has had a bad effect on him. This is the split-up of the Oaks this year and his playing has been seriously affected. This is probably all that spoiled Lane's chances of trout.

He is the only one of the players that has not been able to get into the form of the season. His wants to have a better year next season under different club conditions than he has had this year and he has been a favorite with the fans all year.

BEST PLAYERS TO MEET.

All the entry fees and admissions received from this opening tournament will go to the benefit of the state will participate and players of the state will participate and a record breaking entry has been expected.

The best players are as follows:

Men's singles and doubles: singles for veteran players over 35 years of age; women's singles and doubles; junior singles for boys 10 years and under; singles for girls 10 years and under; under-constituting handicap singles, for both men and women, and doubles for men; consolation singles for both junior boys and girls. The prizes to be awarded are Red Cross certificates.

During the evenings of the tournament the clubhouse will be opened with a benefit dance.

SEEK MASKED BANDITS IN BAY REGION

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 21.—The sharp crackle of revolver shots, the clatter of broken glass and the shouts of excited men broke the quiet of Daly City last night about 9 o'clock when victims of four masked bandits pursued the robbers in an automobile until halted by a fusillade of bullets. Today the police are looking for the hold-up men in the bay cities.

The saloon of A. Vireno, Mission road and Crocker boulevard, was the scene of the robbery. Four men, each masked with a white handkerchief and armed with a revolver, entered the place, forced the proprietor and his customers to line up against the wall and took several hundred dollars from their pockets. They then forced Vireno to open his safe and give them $35 more. They ran out to a waiting automobile in which one of them was driven rapidly away.

The victims pushed out after the robbers, sought the Daly City constable and pursued the bandits in another motor car. At Geneva avenue the robbers opened fire on the pursuers, bullets from their revolvers breaking the windshield and whistling about the heads of the men. This fusillade slowed down the second car and the robbers made good their escape.

Drafted Men Soon To Be Ordered Into Army Camps

European head dress. The helmets selected for the use of the American soldiers at the front are similar in style to those worn by the French and British. They are made of chilled steel, weigh 1 pound 8½ ounces and will turn a bullet at so close a distance as sixty feet.

Barely Two Weeks Remain Before All Must Report; Word Is Awaited

Within a few days every drafted man not exempted or discharged will be notified by the local exemption boards to appear for the first mobilization camp, which opens September 5.

This information is being eagerly awaited by the drafted men who are extremely anxious to straighten out their affairs before they leave. At the present time they are "up in the air," as one man put it, not knowing whether their exemption claims have been accepted or rejected.

Especially is this true of married men, who not only have to make a disposition of their property, furniture, etc., but also must make some arrangements for the caring of their wives.

Barely two weeks now remain before the men must report at camp and, in several cases, local boards have hardly touched exemption claims, the strain and stress of clerical work, transfers, etc., having thrown this part of the program far to the rear.

GIVES LITTLE TIME.

As the judging of exemption claims has been found to be by far the slowest and most arduous part of the draft work, it is evident that many men whose claims are now pending will not be notified until the end of this week or possibly the first of next. This will give them only a few days to straighten out their business affairs.

Saturday will be "Harvest Day" when the work of the different units of the convention will be told by the various sub-chairmen. In the evening Judge Rutherford of New York, one of the best known speakers on religious subjects in the country, will talk. The convention will close on Sunday evening when Judge Rutherford will again be the principal speaker. The subject on this occasion will be "The End of the World." The film "Creation" will be shown every evening at 8 o'clock up to and including Sunday.

The selection of officers for the coming year and the choice of the next meeting place will not occur at this convention. These two details are handled by the board of directors of the parent organization at New York.

THURSDAY

FOR "COMFORT DAY."

There will be "Comfort Day" when a special service is to be held for the mothers and wives who have sent their sons to the front. On Friday the "sacred" features of the program will be speakers.

EXEMPTION APPEALS TO DELAY ARMY

"There will be no draft army by September 5 or even by October if this headlong rush for exemption appeals to the district board keeps up."

Such is the sentiment of various local draft boards who are experiencing a run on appeals to the district board following the publication of the names of men whose exemption claims were not allowed.

This run duplicates in its whole-hearted intensity the mad rush for exemptions which characterized the preliminary examination two weeks ago.

Partial reports indicate that, almost without exception, all those men whose exemption claims were turned down by the local draft boards are appealing to the district board.

One district claimed that 75 per cent of its cases had been appealed—one day after their list had been certified—and another district was in similar plight.

BLANKS USED UP.

Practically all appeal blanks are now used up, and men wishing to appeal their cases from now on will have to buy blanks from the stationery stores.

Whether or not the district board will uphold many of the appeals is a question that is worrying many board members. If any large number of appeals are granted the local boards will have great difficulty in securing their one-third quotas by September 5.

Even as it is, there is a probability that the district board will be swamped by appeals and will be unable to rule on the cases in the required time. This would necessitate sending men who have not claimed exemption to the mobilization camps out of their turns, an expedient which the government was particularly anxious to avoid.

"It is hardly possible that the district board will be able to give the same care, attention and accuracy to these exemption cases as have the local boards," said one of the members of District No. 4 this morning. "Whereas our work has been dealing with a few hundred local men, the district board will have to cope with thousands from a quite extended area. To expect them to complete this super-human task before September 5, when we consider that claimants have ten days yet in which to file appeals, is a virtual impossibility."

THOUSANDS OF OTHERS.

In addition to these thousands of cases which are to be appealed, the district board has to sit on other thousands of cases where the exemptions were granted by local boards and which are to be contested by the government.

The perplexity with which many men are sticking to their exemption claims is worthy of a better cause. One man, passed by the doctors as physically fit, filed a claim for exemption on the ground that his foot was in such condition that he was unable to perform military duties. His claim was rejected by the local board. Undismayed, this young man is appealing his case to the district court, and will doubtless go higher than this if he is able.

Up to the present, though, no one has gone so far as an actor at a local theater, who claims he is sure of getting exemption because he is afflicted with dandruff.

If there is to be any modification of the present rigid rulings of the provost marshal general regarding exemptions of married men from draft, it is known only to President Wilson, who alone has authority to alter or modify those regulations.

The War Department so far, basing its ruling on what it interprets as the intention of Congress in passing the draft law, has gone on the theory that a man's exemption was based on a condition of dependency, rather than on the mere condition of marriage.

The department still holds that view, and will urge it upon the President. There has been no information from any official source that the President intends to modify the rulings of the war office.

The following additional five men have been certified to the district board as physically qualified for military service from Local Board Division No. 2: Milton Everett Christian, Harold L. Meyer, Anton Leo Hilt, Arthur William Haasch and George A. Taylor.

Local Board Division No. 3 has notified a number of men who have filed exemption claims to appear for oral examination tomorrow evening before their cases can be decided.

In District No. 2 John James Rechel, certified to the district board as not having appeared for examination, has notified the local board that he is an enlisted man.

SUES FOR $5000

Suit for $5000 damages has been filed in the superior court by Mrs. Harriet Cochran of San Francisco, as the result of her having been summoned before the police of this city to explain why she should be permitted to take care of the benefit of war victims J. W. Garfield, wife, president of the Oakland Chapter of the Red Cross, J. F. Lynch, acting chief of police, Assistant Inspector of Police William Smith and eight others whose names are not known to the plaintiff are named as defendants, who ask permission to ascertain these names and insert them in the complaint.

Mrs. Cochran was soliciting for the Sonnet Magazine, in conformance with a plan whereby the French Red Cross was to benefit. She had credentials from the French government. The cause of her being summoned before the police was a belief that she was acting in behalf of the American Red Cross.

PIONEER DIES

Mrs. Mary E. O'Connell, pioneer Oakland resident, died today at her home, 2186 East Twenty-seventh street, after an illness of eight months.

The funeral will be Thursday morning.

High requiem mass will be celebrated at St. Jarlath's Church, 3330 Fruitvale avenue, after which interment will take place at St. Mary's cemetery.

A husband, John J. O'Connell, three daughters and five sons survive Mrs. O'Connell.

A native of New York, she came here as a child in arms over fifty-six years ago. Many dangers were encountered, the parents and the girl reaching this city via the Isthmus of Panama route.

When the family arrived there were few houses in Oakland, all crowded close to the waterfront. Mrs. O'Connell was an active member of the church.

COEDS AIM
MIND DARTS
AT WHEELER

COEDS AIM MIND DARTS AT WHEELER

There is wrath in the hearts of the sorority girls of the University of California, and vindictive thought waves are being focused on the presidential election. President Benjamin Ide Wheeler has applied a "short and ugly" word—not the Rooseveltian, but one of his own choosing—and allied himself with the misogynists from Adam to King Lear.

"Odious" is an ugly word and it cannot be said to be polysyllabic. Comparisons are proverbially odious, and President Wheeler has made matters worse by employing "odious" in a comparison of the mental states of men and women.

"I have noticed," he said, "that women are usually more odious in their exclusiveness than men."

Bitter resentment is being expressed by the members of the Greek letter societies at what they term an unwaranted statement and an unfair discrimination. They declare that in a co-educational institution such comparisons are out of place.

Women are out of place, and they denounce with indignation that snobbery is a feminine trait.

STINGING EFFECT.

Dr. Wheeler's remarks promises to echo and resound through the college town, accompanied by pointed expositions and denials. It was especially stinging in its effect, coming as it did just when the rushing season for the sororities is beginning, and being pronounced at the opening university meeting of the semester before all the impressionable freshmen.

"The spirit of exclusiveness in some fraternities," said Dr. Wheeler, "is odious. I know of some fraternities in the past that have been very odious. It makes my heart ache to think that any of my children should have been caused grief by this spirit of exclusiveness. And I have noticed that women are usually more odious in their exclusiveness than men."

HAUGHTY SILENCE.

Resentment among the junior and senior women students is for the most part taking the form of a haughty silence and a refusal to discuss the matter—that is, officially, and for publication. There is plenty of discussion informally, and the subject is a vital one in the councils of the sororities.

"I think that it was awful for President Wheeler to say that women are odious," declared Miss Ruth Snider, of Los Angeles, a freshman.

He is as bad as King with that slanderous metaphor," she said, "and that bone and hank of hair!" And that other horrid remark about "the female

July Receipts on Waterfront Are $14,986.90

Receipts over the Oakland waterfront during the month of July reached a total of $14,986.90, according to the monthly report of W. J. Masterson, city wharfinger, to the council today. The payments on waterfront leases totaled $1179.50, land rentals $69, waterfront franchises $250. The dockage $3810.75.

There were 522 vessels arriving in the harbor with net registered tonnage of 291,239, carrying 80,152 tons of cargo. Lumber handled amounted to 26,274,000 feet.

SUSPECT IN PRISON

Daniel Mattos, 17 years old, an escapee from the Whittier state school, was arrested at Centerville by Deputy Sheriff Joseph Soares last night on suspicion of his being connected with several burglaries. When confronted with a Whittier circular last night Mattos admitted that he had escaped from the reform school. He is held at the county jail pending instructions from Whittier.

HIS FIRST CASE

Within ten minutes of his induction into office yesterday, Superior Judge Joseph S. Kolord was busy untying a marriage knot. Mrs. Emilie Coulter granted a divorce from Max Coulter on the ground of cruelty. Divorce suits were filed by Max Whiteman, Ansel Miller against Charles Miller, desertion and Evelyn Sanford, cruelty.
